

Learning in Later Life Students' Association (3Ls)

Linked to the public programme of classes run by the Centre for Lifelong Learning (CLL), the Learning in Later Life Students' Association (3Ls) is unique in Britain. Our Association was formed over 30 years ago and we now have around 1200 members

As a member of the 3Ls you will be eligible to:

- Join our Clubs which meet regularly, enjoy informal learning, guest speakers, social events and outings in the company of like-minded people
- Take part in a programme of 3Ls social events, trips and study tours
- Use the facilities of the Centre for Sport and Recreation including the University swimming pool in the Royal College at student rates
- Attend the series of Lunchtime Talks at no charge
- Join conferences and seminars at home and abroad
- Receive advance mailing and priority booking for the CLL Daytime Programme
- Support the 3Ls and the CLL through a number of voluntary activities while enjoying the camaraderie of small groups
- Relax in the Social Area on level 2, CLL, Graham Hills building, 40 George Street

Information about the 3Ls Students' Association and the Centre for Lifelong Learning

Membership of the 3Ls Students' Association is open to any senior student who has attended a class in the CLL.

The Management Council is the executive and administrative arm of the association, responsible for:

- Managing the 3Ls and its finances
- Oversight of the 3Ls Club network
- Programme of Social Outings
- Tell'sMore editorial team
- Lunchtime Talks
- Charity fund-raising events

The Council of Clubs meets throughout the year to discuss matters of interest and concern to clubs. Club representatives attend to share information and suggestions about club programmes, outings and projects

The 3Ls Club Office Bearers are all volunteers from the body of the membership who give willingly of their free time to ensure that the 3Ls and its clubs continue to thrive and to maintain its links with the CLL and the University.

The Centre for Lifelong Learning (CLL) delivers a host of adult learning opportunities for a variety of audiences. Its Daytime Programme, aimed at those aged over 50, has been running for more than 30 years and is the largest programme of its kind offered by any University in Europe, attracting over 3500 registrations each year. CLL recognises the importance of the 3Ls Students' Association not only in broadening the student experience but also in providing informal learning and social activities where friendships can be formed and voluntary activities undertaken.
